

LAMELLA BLANKET

It is used for insulation between two walls in chimney production. Owing to the converted fiber, while the chimneys with increased strength serve for a long time, they do not transfer the high heat to be passed through to critical areas.

